

The right technology makes it possible.
The right people make it happen.

Founded in 1990, World Wide Technology has grown from a small startup to a world-class organization with over $3 billion in revenue and more than 1,000 highly trained employees.

The secret of our success? We provide our customers with a lot more than technology. WWT brings to market a unique blend of people, processes and partnerships to help solve the unique challenges of the ever-changing healthcare industry. In the last two years, WWT has worked with healthcare clients nationwide, providing them mission critical IT products and services.

As a leading provider of IT security, unified communications, wireless and data center solutions, WWT professionals are well trained in a variety of areas that impact healthcare, including HIPAA privacy and security regulations. Through our experience, training, industry involvement and inclusion in Cisco's Industry Solutions Partner Network (ISPN), WWT takes a proactive approach at understanding and offering solutions to address the business challenges of healthcare organizations around the globe.
