World Wide will use CompanyCollege's Learning Management System (LMS) and Web-based business and professional courses for online training of its supervisory and management team, according to a release.

Terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

LMS will also enable employees' progress to be tracked through a World Wide "WWT University" Web site.

St. Louis-based World Wide Technology provides supply chain solutions for customers and suppliers around the world in commercial, governmental and telecommunications markets.

Chesterfield-based CompanyColleges provides training solutions for small and midsize companies.
