Put your home value to work with home equity financing

Many of us feel the pinch of today's economic environment. If you have less disposable income, it can be hard to pay for home improvements and large purchases or pay down high-interest debt. But there's a smart, low-interest option to borrow cash, and it may be closer than you think!

A home equity line of credit (HELOC) is often one of the most affordable borrowing options compared to other credit and lending solutions:

- Average Credit Card interest rates are 22.60% for new offers and 21.47% for existing accounts (WalletHub 2.24.25)
- The average overall interest rate for personal loans is 20.98% (Business Insider 2.24.25)

With a UMB HELOC, you can borrow cash with:

- No annual fees
- A 10-year draw period to access funds, followed by a 20-year repayment period
- Flexibility to access funds online, in a branch or with checks<sup>21</sup>

Visit UMB.com/HELOC or speak to a personal banker for information on current HELOC rates.
