Philippians 4:13—Strength in the Storm

As we all know here in the Midwest, spring thunderstorms can roll in without much warning. The sky darkens, the wind picks up, and before you know it, rain is pouring and thunder is shaking the ground—sometimes all before you have even checked the forecast. They can feel intense in the moment, but they do not last forever. Often, they leave the air clearer and everything a little stronger.

In many ways, the challenges we face in business and life are like those storms. Pressure builds, uncertainty grows, and we find ourselves navigating the unexpected. But just like those storms, they are not without purpose—and they are not permanent. And in the middle of it all, we hold onto this truth: "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me" (Philippians 4:13).

Please join me in prayer:

Heavenly Father, when the storms of life and business come, help us remember You are in control and that these storms will not last forever. Remind us that even in uncertainty, You have a purpose.

Thank You for Your grace that meets us in the storm. Help us trust You with the outcome, knowing You are with us.

Strengthen us through Christ to endure and move forward. I pray this in His name with humble respect for all faiths and backgrounds. AMEN.
